7 St. Joseph's Teachers Receive Faculty Promotions

Fr. Maziarz

Mr. Davis Mr. Gatto Fr. Gerlach Mr. Kilmer Fr. Kramer Fr. Lechner

Seven members of St. Joseph's teaching staff will occupy new faculty positions with the beginning of the fall semester.

By special presidential appointment from Fr. Raphael H. Gross, Fr. Edward A. Maziarz, academic dean of the college, will be elevated from an associate professor to a full professor.

Effective in September

Fr. Maziarz announced that Mssrs. Michael Davis and Richard Kilmer and Fr. Robert F. Lechner are being promoted to associate professors with tenure effective September, 1958. Also effective in September will be the appointments of Mr. Louis C. Gatto, Fr. Dominic B. Gerlach, and Fr. William Kramer from instructor to assistant professor.

An associate professorship means that the teacher can only be released from the college for a grave and serious reason. An assistant professorship means that the teacher now has rank on the faculty and his probationary status as instructor is terminated.

Fr. Maziarz, who was recently reappointed academic dean until 1960, becomes the eleventh professor on the St. Joe faculty. He came to St. Joseph's in 1942.

25 Associates and 30 Assistants

With the addition of Mssrs. Michael Davis and Richard Kilmer, and Fr. Robert Lechner, the list of associate professors has increased to 25. Mr. Davis began teaching at St. Joe in 1952; Mr. Kilmer joined the faculty in 1953; and Fr. Lechner came in 1946.

The promotion of Mr. Louis C. Gatto, Fr. Dominic B. Gerlach, and Fr. William Kramer increases the list of assistant professors to 30. Mr. Gatto came to St. Joe in 1957; Fr. Gerlach started teaching here in 1952; and Fr. Kramer joined the faculty in 1953.

Boys Town Choir Lifts Angelic Voices at St. Joe

The singing ambassadors from Boys Town, Neb., the all-American Boys Town Choir, made their first appearance at Collegeville on April 16. The 23 "rough and ready kids who sing like angels" more than lived up to the reputation they have earned on their annual tours.

Under the direction of Fr. Francis Schmitt, the boys opened their St. Joe concert with liturgical religious selections. Included among these was the "Regina Coeli," Mozart's "Adoramus Te Christe," and parts of the Mass, the "Kyrie," "Sanctus," and "Benedictus," by the Spanish composer, Torres.

Closes With Hymns To Mary

For the second half, the boys switched from the traditional choir vestments and Latin verses to a more informal presentation of Swiss, Gallic, French, and American folk songs. This theme was highlighted by the rendition of two Stephen Foster melodies, "Nellie Bly," and the favorite, "Old Kentucky Home." The group then followed with the spiritual, "Soon I Will Be Done."

The performance was concluded with Dufay's "Ave Maris Stella," and the "Salve Mater" by Pothier. The audience then joined with the boys in singing the "Star-Spangled Banner."

Group Earns Wide Acclaim

The Boys Town Choir came to Collegeville with a record of 60,000 miles of travel behind them since they began their tours in 1946. These young choisters from Father Flanagan's world-famous haven for homeless and neglected lads of every creed, race, and color, have given over 300 concerts.

Their presentation of every type and variety of choral singing, ranging from the lilting melodies of Strauss to the modern works of Gershwin, Kern, Barber, or Britten, has merited the young singers acclaim from Boston to St. Louis and from Regina, Saskatchewan to Santa Maria, Calif.

Such laurels as "inspiring magical music" and "a wealth of music, infinitely varied, always interesting and beautifully sung," were justified by the boys' performance before the St. Joe audience.

The famous choir from Boys Town made St. Joe part of their tour in a visit to Collegeville on Apr. 16.

5 New Profs To Join Staff

Fr. Edward A. Maziarz, academic dean of the college, has announced that five new faculty members will be added to St. Joseph's teaching staff in September.

The new appointees are: Francis Dance, M. A., Francis Duggan, M.A., Cornelius R. Fay, M.A., Ph.D., Curtis R. Stanley, M.B.A., and Allan J. Twark, M.B.A.

1 Ph.D. Among Newcomers

Francis Dance, who will be an assistant professor of speech, received his M.A. degree from the University of Northwestern in 1953 and is currently on a teaching fellowship at Northwestern.

Francis Duggan will assume the duties of assistant professor of English. He received his M.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1950. At present he is on the faculty of Chestnut Hill college, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dr. Fay Studies in Beligum

Dr. Cornelius R. Fay, who will be an assistant professor of philosophy, attended Columbia University from where he received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in 1950 and 1954 respectively. In 1953 he studied at the University of Louvain in Belgium on a Fullbright Research Grant. He also is currently teaching at Chestnut Hill college.

Curtis H. Stanley, who is now on a teaching fellowship at the University of Michigan, will be an assistant professor of accounting. He received his M.B.A. degree from Michigan in 1957.

Allan J. Twark will become an assistant professor of business at St. Joseph's. He received his Master's degree from Kent State university in 1954. At the present time, he is on a teaching fellowship at the University of Illinois.

Parent's Day To Include Football, Concert, Debate, Mother Award

by Jerry Mauch

Parents of all St. Joe students have been invited by letter to attend the annual Parents' Day ceremonies at Collegeville on Sunday, May 4.

The day will begin with Holy Mass in the Collegeville chapel and will continue with various events throughout the day until early evening.

Band Concert At 1 P.M.

First on the entertainment program will be a concert by the St. Joe band, conducted by Mr. Adam P. Lesinsky. Scheduled to begin at 11:30 a.m., the concert will take place near the pool in front of the Administration building. Following the band concert, dinner will be served in the college cafeteria from 11:30 until 1:00 p.m.

From 12:30 to 3:00 p.m. Xavier hall will conduct an open house, during which exhibits will be shown depicting the work of the missions, the Society of the Precious Blood, and other liturgical work.

Varsity Vs. Old Timers

Beginning at 1:00 p.m. parents will have an opportunity to preview the 1958 edition of the Puma football team and to see players of past years in a game which pits the Varsity against the old-timers, who will be bolstered by the graduating seniors. This event will take place on the Puma gridiron.

Also at 1:00 p.m. will be a social hour in Raleigh hall, followed by the mothers' club reception in Raleigh hall lounge from 2.00 to 3:00 p.m., during which the College Mothers' club will receive students and guests and serve refreshments.

Pick Mother of the Year

At 3:30 p.m. parents and students will convene in the auditorium for an awards assembly, an address by the college president, Rev. Raphael H. Gross, C.PP.S., and a glee club concert, conducted by Mr. Bernard Qubeck.

Included among the awards will be the third annual Mother of the Year award. Last year the mother of Fr. Banet, college librarian, was the recipient of the award and in 1956 Fr. Gross' mother was honored.

Student Mothers Only

This year a change has been made in the eligibility rules for the award. In preceding years persons eligible included mothers of St. Joe students, faculty, staff, and alumni. This year the field has been narrowed to include only the mothers of St. Joe students.

Students are asked to make nominations by writing a letter to: Parents Day Director, St. Joseph's College, Collegeville, Ind. The deadline for all entries is midnight, Thursday, Apr. 24.

Other Awards Given

All entries should include the full name and address of the nominee, along with a brief life sketch, her family background, number of children, facts about the children if these facts might influence the selection, outstanding accomplishments of the nominee, if any, and the reasons why the student feels the nominee should be selected as St. Joseph's Mother of the Year.

Other awards and honors to be presented at the assembly include: 1959 senior nominees to Delta Epsilon Sigma, 1959 senior nominees to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, The Alumni Essay Award, The Mary J. Pursley Award for Creative Writing, and The Hanley Science Award.

Benediction Follows

Additional awards are the Louis F. White Memorial Award, donated by the Glee club; the Fr. Gordon Memorial Award, donated by the Commerce club; and the John P. Hruzik Geology Award, donated by the geology department.

Following the awards assembly, Benediction and the Litany to St. Joseph will be held in the chapel at 4:30 p.m., followed by a rosary procession to the grotto. Supper will be served after the procession from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Throughout the day concerts will be played on the Knue Memorial Carillon at 12:15, 1:30, 2:15, 4:15, and 5:30.

Duke Ellington Replaces Count Basie at SJ Prom

A serious illness has forced Count Basie and his orchestra to cancel 12 dates in May, one of which was their scheduled appearance at St. Joseph's Prom on May 24.

Junior class president Marty Bena immediately contacted Mr. Paul Bannister, General Manager of Associated Booking Corp., who rearranged Duke Ellington's tour of the Midwest, so that he could appear at the Prom on May 24.

Ellington Still at Top

"The Duke," who was a great success at last year's Prom, is America's foremost composer of modern music. He has reigned as a pace-setting stylist since 1927.

The Ellington idiom has carved a big niche in musical America. Bands have come and gone. None have been able to move Ellington from the top rung.

Old Favorites Popular

Most musicians agree that one of the reasons the Duke's is as provocative today as when it was first beaten out in a night club, is that an Ellington tune is always ahead of its time.

"Solitude," "Sophisticated Lady," and "Mood Indigo" are still fresh on the lips of the public. Right down in front are Ellington's more recent, "Don't You Know I Care?" and "I'm Beginning to See the Light."

Duke Artistically Successful

Duke's concert activities have won him an audience of the widest scope and have established the crown of leadership more firmly on his head than at any time in his career.

At the Sherman Hotel in Chicago, on the Kate Smith Program, the Philco "Hall of Fame," the Bing Crosby Show, and on records, the Ellington band has emerged as one of the most successful orchestras in the world, both from a commercial and artistic viewpoint.

Parents To Peek At Pumaville

A week from this coming Sunday, May 4 to be exact, St. Joseph's college will once again play host to our parents. This is an event which has become an integral part of the school year.

On this day, the college wishes to pay tribute to the parents, who through their sacrifice and love, have made it possible for us to attend college.

Parents' Day is a time when each Puma, from freshman to senior, should be just as proud to walk the paths of Collegeville with his parents as he is when he has his best girl down here for a dance or social visit.

Why not invite your parents to their day on the campus?

Movie Admission: Your Decision

On this year's ballot for the Student Council elections, besides the regular slate of candidates for the respective Student Council offices, a proposition is being presented for the consideration of the student body.

This proposition, which regards levying a prepaid movie charge of $1.65 per semester, is actually an attempt to reduce the admission prices of the campus movies. This proposal seems to be sound for a number of reasons.

First, a student could conceivably see all the movies, approximately 25, for $1.65. This represents a saving of $10.85 over what the student would pay for each movie at 50c apiece. On each movie a saving of 43.4c could be realized.

Secondly, a student, if he were disappointed in the movie and even came away disgusted, would not feel so bad if he knew that he had spent only 6.6c for the movie. This would seem to be an important factor due to the recent complaints concerning the caliber of the movies.

The most obvious disadvantage of the proposal is that perhaps there are a few students who would not attend any of the movies and would thereby stand to lose $1.65. This seems to be the only outstanding drawback to the proposal.

Whatever your preference is in this matter is completely up to you. A careful consideration of this and the Student Council officers that you are selecting is absolutely necessary.

Should the movie proposal be passed, it would go into effect next September. It must be remembered that the college is not pushing this idea.

Furthermore, if the proposal is passed, there is nothing to prevent it from being revoked at any time should the student body so desire.

Puma Presents Vista-Vision View

Dear Editor,

I read with interest Phil Novell's letter in one of the last issues of Stuff about the condition of the weekend movies shown here at Pumaville. I, too, am one of the many individuals who like to set aside their weekend studying and take in a movie in the auditorium, and, unfortunately, I am also one of the many who, more often than not, come away disappointed.

As an interested voice from the audience, I'd like to inject a suggestion on how this deplorable situation may be solved and how even the most particular movie fan may be satisfied.

It seems to me that the majority of good movies on the market today are cinemascope and vista-vision productions, and naturally, necessitate a larger movie screen to accomodate all the "breath and scope" of the presentation. It's a known fact that the biggest movies are the best today, and the movie houses with the biggest screens to handle the biggest movies will bring in the biggest crowds.

Just as San Francisco had to build a ball park to lure the Giants out there, St. Joe will have to set up a larger movie screen to bring bigger and better movies to Collegeville. Most of the movie theaters in the surrounding towns like our own beloved Rensselaer, Remington, Francesville, Fowler, and Wolcott, to name a few, have kept up with the current trend and have installed screens large enough to handle the high quality films like "Jailhouse Rock," "Sayonara," "Peyton Place," and "Don't Go Near the Water."

Because of this, it's not uncommon to see hordes of Pumas vacating the campus on Saturday and Sunday nights to travel all over the state to see a good movie, instead of staying here and paying the same admission price to see an inferior movie. Many gallons of gasoline would be saved and many movie fans would be much happier if St. Joe would arrange to have cinemascope-type movies once in a while.

I'm sure that I am not alone in my feelings about the need for improvement in the Pumaville cinema. Like Mr. Novell, I agree that not all movies here are mediocre, but the sad fact remains that the better ones are few and far between. I think that it would be a good idea for Stuff, as an instrument of the public good, to conduct a poll on how student feeling runs concerning the need for an improvement in the weekend movies.

Sincerely,
Dave Kafka

Ed. Note:

The cost of a cinemascope lens is approximately $900. Wide-screen installation is pretty expensive. Perhaps the new movie proposition will give St. Joe movie-goers a chance to be more discriminating without disappointment and an empty pocket.

Reviews At Random

by Jim McCullough

For all the intellectuals at St. Joe, this week we'll treat a highbrow work, The Body In The Library, by Agatha Christie. The new, shiny, 25c pocket edition creates a false impression. In its fourth printing, the novel was actually written in 1942. It is one of the classics of an author called the "queen of crime," amply illustrating the qualities which have endeared her to some 50 million readers.

Agatha calls the beginning of this whodunit her finest. In the bedroom of a stodgy, upper middle-class home, Mrs. Bantry is trying to convince her husband that the maid, who usually just brings up tea, had a piece of news besides:

"Wake up, Arthur. You've got to listen. Mary came in and said there was a body in the library."

"Eh, what?"

"A body in the library."

"Who said so?"

"Mary."

"Nonsense, old girl! You've been dreaming . . . there couldn't be."

"Then why did Mary say there was?"

"She can't have. Bodies are always being found in libraries in books. I've never known a case in real life."

"Perhaps you will now."

Along the way Christie gives you all the clues, but in such a way that you suspect the innocent and ignore the guilty. Of course the characters aren't real; they're chess pieces used for intellectual stimulation, and nobody cares when one is bumped off, not even the other characters. They provide wonderful diversion, however, probably enough for a student to momentarily forget the pangs of a 1.98 index or unrequited love.

Agatha Christie's victims, villains, and remarkably composed suspects are all too genteel for such heady stuff. The victim here is Ruby Keene, a young dancer who had endeared herself to a rich invalid, Conway Jefferson. He was about to leave her L50,000. Things looked bad for the rich man's relatives who needed the money themselves, until somebody strangled Ruby Keene to death.

So whodunit? There's a convenient cast of characters in the front of the book to choose from. Is it Adelaide Jefferson, the old man's daughter-in-law, who could have told much more than she chose? Mark Gaskell, his son-in-law, keen, ruthless, and disarmingly frank? George Bartlett, young, single, and almost too fatuous?

The police work diligently, but of course it's the wizened old spinster with keen intuition who traps the killer.

What Do You Think?

by Jim St. Amour

Today, along with the election of a student council, students will also have the opportunity to voice their views on a proposal that beginning next semester an additional fee of $1.65 per semester be charged for admittance to the college theater on weekends. If the proposal is adopted, do you feel that many students will attend the movies simply because they have paid the fee and do you think that the college auditorium is capable of handling the number of additional students who would attend? In general, do you think such a plan is beneficial to all?

Ron Metter, junior, Mt. Clemens, Mich.

As far as I am concerned I like the idea very much. I like to attend the movie on campus at least once on the weekend so that in the long run it will definitely be cheaper. The fact, however, that the auditorium is not too large may cause some difficulty.

If all the students who remain at school over the weekend decide to go the movie I don't think there will be enough good seats to accommodate them. When voting on such a proposal one also has to realize that some of the students go home quite regularly.

These students would be obliged to pay the $1.65 even though they would not in all probability attend any of the movies. This group which does go home every week is definitely in the minority, but I feel that they should be taken into consideration.

Maybe it could be possible to have only those students who want the proposal passed pay the fee. This would still include most of the students.

Richard Vomish, junior, Hammond, Ind.

I definitely think that the prepaid theatrical fee is a good idea. It will aid those students who find themselves short of cash at the time they wish to attend a performance.

I am sure that the college auditorium will accommodate all those who wish to attend. I have noticed in the past that the auditorium has never been filled to capacity for any one movie and I doubt if there would be enough students on campus on a weekend to fill it.

I think the idea is a good one and deserves everyones attention. I think the caliber of movies that have been shown lately will greatly increase the chances for this proposed issue's adoption.

Carl Riechwein, sophomore, Indianapolis, Ind.

There has been a good deal of complaint about the quality of the movies on campus this year. With a guaranteed admission, the budget could possibly be increased and the quality of movies improved. If the movies were improved the students would go more often, not because they had money invested, but because there was a good picture showing.

If the student went to seven movies on campus, he would get more than his money's worth. Also, if he were low on money, he would not have to worry about having 50c for admission.

The increased attendance could prove to be a problem. Perhaps the movie could be shown twice a night. All in all, the sponsors of the movie and the moviegoers alike would profit by the plan.

Ted Bendis, sophomore, Whiting, Ind.

This idea has interested me ever since I heard about it. If the proposal is adopted I definitely think it will have an effect on the number of students attending these movies. I know from personal experiences that many times I had wanted to go to the show but just couldn't spare the 50c at the time.

I think many of the other guys have the same problem. Paying the fee at the beginning of the semester would solve this problem nicely. I don't think the $1.65 will be missed as much when it is paid along with the tuition as the 50c is missed when you are just about broke.

As far as the auditorium handling the increase in students, I think it should be able to accommodate them. Of course, if an increase in attendance is all that is wanted, I think a better grade of movies is all that is needed.

Ed Roth, sophomore, Chicago, Ill.

If this proposal is adopted, I feel that it will benefit all students or at least the majority. If the admission to the weekend movies remains 50c, seven movies over the full school year would cost more than the $1.65 proposed.

Personally, I would rather pay the fee in one lump sum than have to dig in my pocket for 50c everytime a good movie is showing on campus.

There are two main drawbacks to this proposal. First, can the quality of the movies be raised by having a definite sum of cash to work with or will the movies relapse to the standards of this year or even lower.

The second obstacle is the seating capacity of the auditorium. Will it be sufficient to accomodate the increase in attendance to be expected if this proposal is accepted by the student body?

This is especially a problem when an exceptionally good movie is playing but could be remedied by showing the movie on both Saturday and Sunday.

Albert Wojcik, freshman, Chicago, Ill.

If the students were positive of getting top rate movies for their fee, I would be all in favor of the proposal. But, since no assurance is given of the movies' quality I am against the fee. Also, many of the students do not find time to see the movies on weekends, so they would be losing money.

Many students go home on weekends or go to movies, which are of a better quality than here at school, in neighboring towns. All these students would loose out on their fee.

I think the students would be better off to pay the 50c to see a movie if and when they want to see one.

Between The Lines

by Greg Mahoney

A considerable part of the editorial page of the last issue of Stuff was devoted to the question of censorship. Such a discussion came at a curiously appropriate time, in view of an incident of censorship that was leveled at the campus newspaper of a Southern college earlier in the month.

In the editorial pages of the Mississippi State college paper, its editor, L. E. Miller, handled a hot potato that a majority of the editors and publishers of the big-city Dixie dailies wouldn't touch with a 10-foot typewriter. The 20-year-old Miller advocated the airing of both sides of the delicate racial issue. Soon afterwards, the Mississippi State student council announced that Miller had been fired.

Such rigid censorship views of the student council were not necessarily shared by the rest of the student body, however. In a campus-wide election, held at the Starkville, Miss., college last Thursday, Miller was reinstated as campus editor. The student council failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority needed to ratify its action.

Miller's was not an isolated case. A fair percentage of student editors are annually relieved of their position in not-so-subtle terms. Rarely though, does the reading public, the student body for whom the paper is published, have the opportunity to pass judgement on the martyrdom of an editor.

The important point here is not so much that a liberal-minded editor has his job back, but that here was a very convincing example of placing censorship in the hands of the readers who, after all, deserve a voice in what is taboo and why.

It is true that what people want isn't always what is the best for them to have. Censorship should certainly be employed to prevent the publication of anything which would be offensive to public morals and the public good. However, when a newspaperman is slapped on the wrist because he stepped on the toes of a touchy faction in the South, then censorship loses its value and becomes a very dangerous tool in the hands of a minority interest.

The same is true of any American college that supports its own paper. If the power of censorship is put into the hands of an individual, or individuals, whose interests are removed and isolated from the mainstream of campus thought and opinion, then that censorship can do immeasurable harm in weakening the prestige of the paper.

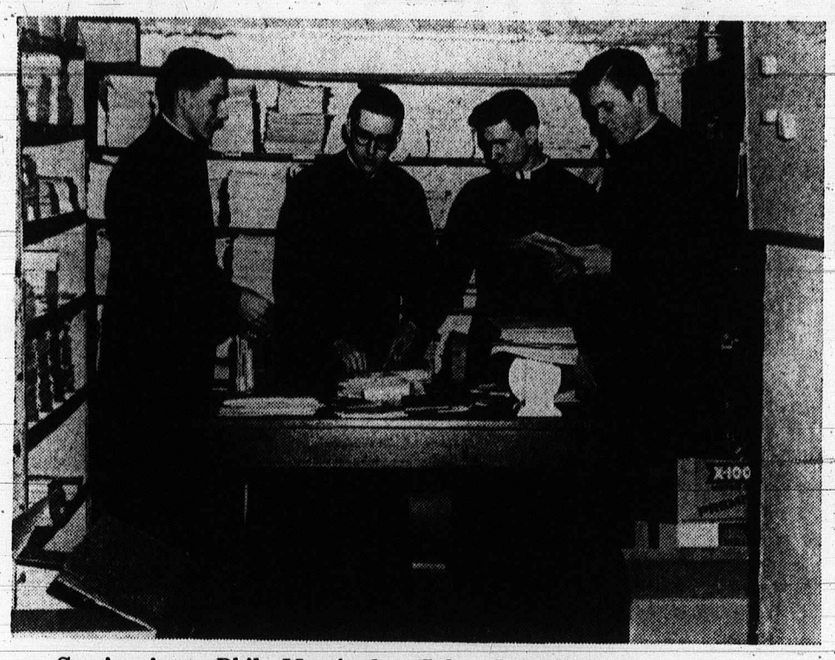
DMU Wrapping Day



Seminarians Phil Mattingly, John Petuskey, Leon Keens, and Kenneth Schroeder wrap up some good literature.

Universal Good Reading: A Mission of the Xavierites

By Bernard Srode

"Here's another package for Africa—going to Monrovia in Liberia." The speaker was the postmaster at Collegeville, who held in his hands a package of magazines bearing the return address of St. Joseph's college and to be stamped for overseas to a missionary in the capital of the West African republic. Handling packages for overseas has become quite a commonplace thing at the Collegeville post office.

Practically every week, now, for the past several years the postmaster has thumbed through the Postal Guide for the parcel post rates to a place in Korea, various parts of India, and sections of Africa.

Xavier Hall Project

The outgoing mail represented the production—if you want to use that word—of the Redistribution Center operated by the students of Xavier hall. The Center, now in its tenth year, is a subdivision of the Dwenger Mission Unit at Xavier. Francis Krupa of Cincinnati, Ohio is its chairman.

Although packages go from the Center to most parts of the world, its work was begun back in the autumn of 1947, as a rather local project, designed to supply reading material to a hospital and to a few Precious Blood Fathers working here and there in the missions. But the idea grew rapidly and now the Center has contacts in Africa, India, Ceylon, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, and Canada, as well as in various States in the U. S.

15 Xavierites in Center

The work of the Center is inspired by the seminarians' desire to be apostles of Truth. They began collecting textbooks and reference books, pamphlets, Catholic magazines, and prayer-books.

The members of the Center (15 out of the 53 seminarians in Xavier) found spots in the Indian settlements of the Southwest where there is little or no opportunity to obtain Catholic publications. Negro missions centers in the South also have been recipients of material from the Center.

Good Reading in Demand

Another field of sowing good Catholic literature opened with the war in Korea. Veteran's hospitals, and chaplains with men on the front have been begging for solid reading matter.

They don't want comic books, trashy magazines. They want material which will lift them up, that will divert their minds from the battering of guns, the blasting of dynamite, the blood-curdling horrors of war.

Teamwork Key To Success

Much of the material distributed is obtained through the generosity of Catholic laity, school children, and parish societies.

To get the packing done, the members are divided into small teams, each team working one night a week for one hour. A report is kept on the number of packages sent out each month and submitted to the Dwenger Mission Unit monthly, which supplies the finances of the Center.

SJC To Begin Field Course In Geology

St. Joseph's college will begin a permanent field course in geology next summer at Silver City in Grant county, N. M. The eight-week course will run from June 16 to Aug. 9.

The work will involve the geology of the Silver City region and will include training in stratigraphy, structural geology, geomorphology, economic geology, topographic mapping, geological mapping with the plane table, the Brunton compass, topographic maps, and aerial photographs.

24 SJ Students to attend

According to Fr. Carl Nieset, associate professor of geology at St. Joseph's, the summer class will be conducted on an annual basis and is a graduation requirement for geology majors. Twenty-four students will attend this summer's course, possibly including a few applicants from other schools if the quota is not filled by St. Joe students.

In addition to Fr. Nieset, Fr. Donald Ballman and Mr. Michael Davis, both of St. Joseph's geology department, will teach the course.

Carries 8 Hours Credit

A dormitory on the campus of St. Mary Academy has been rented and the Academy will provide the students with the necessary living and academic facilities. The total cost to each student will be $335. The course will carry eight semester hours credit.

A similar course was offered in 1956 but was canceled last summer because of the work being done by Frs. Nieset and Ballman. The two professors completed a 200-square mile mapping expedition of the Silver City area for the New Mexico Bureau of Mines.

32 Students On Dean's List

Thirty-two students merited a position on the mid-term Dean's List. Each of the students attained an index of 3.50 or better.

Heading the list with perfect 4.00 (straight A's) indexes are: seniors John Burke, Thomas Mahoney, James O'Brien, and Joseph Ponko, and sophomores James Caswell and Raymond Krizmanic.

Seniors on the list are: Donald Cebulski, James Elbert, Greg Jancich, and Frank Strezo. Among the juniors are: David Carey, John Coombes, Leroy Ellgass, Leo Kominek, Joseph Kovitch, John Neff, and Roger Redelman.

Representing the sophomore class are: James Blanzy, George Borge, Edward Duffy, Charles Faucher, Robert Koron, Joseph Lillich, William McCrea, Robert Smat, Edward Starshak, and Joseph Watson.

Freshman on the list include: William Dineen, Ronald Koron, Alan Purcell, Bernard Uecker, and Joseph Wild.

Conroy Contest To Test Speakers

The annual Conroy Oratory Contest will be held this year on Wednesday, May 14. Eliminations for the contest, which is open to anyone, will be held in the auditorium on Monday evening, May 12.

Speeches may be on any topic but they must be original and of five minutes duration. First prize will be the Msgr. Thomas M. Conroy Memorial Oratory Gold Medal and $15. Second prize will be $10, while the third and fourth prizes will be $5 each.

The Rev. James J. Conroy, an alumnus of St. Joseph's '32, continues the foundation established by his uncle, Msgr. Conroy '96, is the donor of the oratory medal. Fr. James Conroy is presently on the staff of the Catholic weekly, Our Sunday Visitor.

Previous winners of the award are senior James O'Brien, Junior Dave Carey, and sophomore Art Tonnelli, who was last year's winner.

Collegeville Confidential

by Tim J. Sullivan Jr.

The monsoons have hit, if last Saturday and Sunday are any indication. It's about time, too. All that beautiful weather last week just couldn't last. It was just too darn hot to be true. It was more like August than April. "Such is life!"

Again?

Someone has tagged our beloved Dean of Men again. Even if it is an old trick, (Cf. Collegeville Confidential, Oct. 24, 1957) someone has put a swastika in the dust on his then very dirty car. There is also a rumor going about that the "Midnight Auto Supply" picked up his hub caps, but no one is owning up to it, nor will anyone squeal.

Troubles, girl!

In the every-day happenings of Pumaville, there is one thing that is very strange—a Puma having a date during the week. Jerry Freidrich is one of the lucky ones. He is, or maybe now was, dating one of the girls in the office. He had one of those unusual dates one night before Easter, and some of his "buddies" decided to see if they could mess things up just a little. They almost did. A phone call, seemingly from an "ex" of the girl's told him to "lay off" or he would lose his head, and, we all know how tough those town boys are. Until they told him, he was really sweating the whole thing.

More Violations of the "Fifth" Commandment

It is our opinion, and that of the majority of the boys in the Power House, that Ron Metter had better stop stealing bricks from that pile that used to be in front of the Rec hall. Sure, using them for book ends and the like is O.K., but is it necessary to take enough to re-build the Power House?

Auntie Dee and Uncle Jimmie Present . . .

When the Talent Show was being put on last Semester, there was one individual who should have been in it, and wasn't. According to reliable sources, Dave Kafka is quite a musician. It seems that there is a TV program for Kiddies in Detroit, and Dave was one of their featured performers a few years ago. Perhaps he could be talked into playing for all of us some day.

Small Mystery!

A recent visit to the new halls to see how the puppies, reported on last issue, has brought to light a small mystery. The pups are gone, without leaving a trace, not even a small smell. Also gone is their mother, that cute little courageous mother. Is there perhaps a chance of kidnapping, of foul play. Look in next issue to see.

Funny Sights and Sounds . . . A group of little girls surrounding some of the Puma athletes asking for their autographs . . . the boys who went to Purdue wringing out their clothes after being caught out in the rain Sat. night . . . Is it true that someone put Nair in Marty Rosinski's hair cream . . . the swimming team, paddling around in the pond in lovely Fountain Park . . . That's about all, so we should stop here . . . just remember . . .

Jazz, Mixer, and Valpo To Make Busy Weekend

by Tom Doherty

On Sunday afternoon, Apr. 27,at 3:00 p.m. in the St. Joe auditorium, the celebrated jazz band, the Dukes of Dixieland, will give a jazz concert. The concert will climax another busy St. Joe social week-end.

The weekend will get under way on Saturday, Apr. 26, at 1:00 p.m. when the St. Joe nine plays host to its foremost rival of the ICC, the Valparaiso Crusaders. Girls from St. Francis of Joliet, Mundelein and St. Xavier's of Chicago will arrive on campus between 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon in time to lend a hand with the Puma cheering.

Dukes From Basin Street

In the evening at 7:30, the girls of St. Francis and the St. Joe Glee Club will present a choral concert in the auditorium. Following the concert will be a mixer in Raleigh hall until 12:30 a.m.

The highlight of the weekend, other than the St. Joe-Valpo twin bill, promises to be Sunday's jazz concert, featuring the Dukes of Dixieland, who are the pride of jazzdom's famous Basin Street in New Orleans, La.

Shorten Tour and Turn Pro

The Dukes got their start in New Orleans 10 years ago when Frankie and Freddie Assunto formed a neighborhood Dixieland band. Their first big break came when they joined the touring Horace Heidt troupe of new talent under the name of the Junior Dixie Band; all seven of them were under 18 at the time.

After a few weeks on tour, they decided to turn professional. From then on they have established themselves as one of the foremost Dixie and jazz bands in the United States.

Originality in Selection

The Dukes have appeared at the Dunes and the Thunderbird in Las Vegas, Nev., and the Preview Lounge in downtown Chicago. They also have worked on TV's Tonight show.

The distinguished mark of the Dukes' popularity has been their interest in playing the original Dixieland music which reached its peak during the early 1900's. Through this originality they are able to impart character and distinctness of style to their music.

Revels To Open Prom Weekend

On Friday, May 23, the Junior Prom weekend will officially open with the Revels Dance in Raleigh hall from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Tom Doherty and John Galvin, co-chairmen of the Dance Committee, announced that the Jack Duffy Quintet will supply the music for the inaugural of the school year's biggest social weekend.

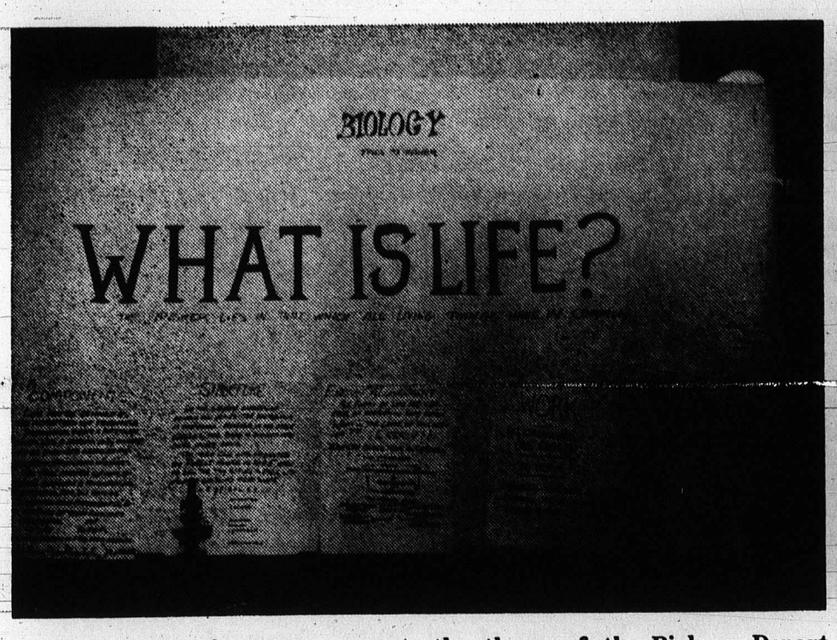
The Duffy Quintet is currently touring the tri-state area of Michigan, Wisconsin, and Illinois and has featured at the Top Hat in Kankakee, Ill. since March, 1957. This will be their first appearance at St. Joseph's.

As in the past, this Revels will also have supervised social drinking under the direction of the Student Council.

Tickets will go on sale Monday, May, 5 at $3.00 apiece. On Monday the tickets will be limited to seniors only. Juniors, sophomores, and freshmen may purchase their tickets on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday respectively.

After this advance sale, tickets will be available on a first come first served basis.

Science Day At St. Joe Comes Alive



This array of posters presents the theme of the Biology Department's Science Day exhibit. The biologists had exhibits in embryology, histology, and comparative anatomy.

Miss Gerrilee Swallow, niece of Jerry Bryne, admires the newly-hatched chicks in the Biology Department's embryology exhibit. The chicks were born on Science Day, Apr. 13.

College Biology Department To Award Assistantships

The Biology Department of St. Joseph's college has established a series of assistantships to be given each year to an incoming freshman. The program will begin with the coming school year.

The award, called the "William Harvey Assistantship in Biology," will carry a stipend equivalent to tuition fees, and will be renewed each year as long as the student remains qualified.

Sutter Gets First One

A new member of the freshman class will be chosen each succeeding year, so that at the end of four years the department will have four assistants—one from each class.

Although the freshman program will not begin until next fall, the department actually granted the first assistantship this semester, to junior Richard P. Sutter of Strongsville, Ohio. The award was made so that an upperclassman would be available to help supervise the program next year.

Provides Lab Assistants

The department announced that it was establishing the assistantship series for the following reasons: To aid in increasing our country's supply of scientists; to attract promising students to St. Joseph's and to the biology department in particular; and to encourage work in the science of biology rather than in applied fields.

Also the department pointed out that the new program would provide trained and competent assistant instructors to aid in the looming "teacher shortage." Furthermore, the assistants would provide technical and competent help in the laboratories, in grading papers, and in assisting in the preparation and housekeeping chores of the department.

Judge on Potential Ability

Under the program each assistant will work approximately 12 hours per week, with the older assistants in charge of training the younger ones.

"Since the development of young scientists and the encouragement of potential biologists constitute the prime purpose of the program," stated the department, "the award should be made purely on the basis of potential ability and with no regard to financial need. Or, alternatively, in the case of students obviously more than able to afford college fees, the title and honor might be given while awarding the tuition grant-in-aid to another deserving student in need of finances."

ACPA Names Fr. Lechner V.P.

At the April 9 meeting, which was held in Detroit, Mich., the American Catholic Philosophical Association elected Fr. Robert F. Lechner, C.PP.S., of St. Joseph's philosophy department, as vice-president for 1959.

The selection of Fr. Lechner is not only an honor for him, but for St. Joseph's also. According to the ACPA's constitution, the vice-president automatically becomes president the following year.

Fr. Lechner, who was recently promoted to an associate professorship, has been a member of the college faculty since 1946. He is also editor of the magazine Philosophy Today, which is published quarterly by the Society of the Precious Blood.

Also representing St. Joseph's at the ACPA meeting were Dr. Robert J. Kreyche, Fr. John Klopke, and Fr. Ernest Ranly, who is doing graduate work at the University of St. Louis.

Band To Give Spring Concert

St. Joseph's Band will present its annual Spring Concert in the Collegeville auditorium on Thursday, May 1, at 8:15 p.m. Mr. Adam P. Lesinsky, band director, will conduct.

The concert selections will range from classical compositions to Broadway musicals. The program will be highlighted by the Finale from the "New World Symphony" by Anton Dvorak and "Victory At Sea" by Richard Rodgers.

Another feature of the evening will be a trumpet solo by Arthur Kurek, entitled "My Regards," written by Edward Llewellyn. "The Student Prince" by Sigmund Romberg will also be presented.

Mr. Lesinsky will conduct the playing of his own composition, "Camelot March," along with two John Phillip Sousa marches, "Fairest of the Fair," and "Black Man," which he himself played with Sousa.

As a part of Parents' Day activities on May 4, the band will present a light afternoon concert by the fountain, beginning at 12:30. This precedent of giving outdoor concerts at St. Joe was established in 1914.

SJ Glee Club To Sing Sat., Sun.

St. Joseph's Glee Club, fresh from its participation in the Indiana Catholic Choral Concert at St. Mary's of Notre Dame in South Bend, looks forward to its next concert here on Saturday, Apr. 26 and Sunday, Apr. 27.

This weekend, the Glee Club will combine its voices with those of the girls of the St. Francis of Joliet Glee Club in a concert given in the Collegeville auditorium.

On the following Sunday, May 4, the Glee Club will serenade the mothers and fathers of the St. Joe students who will be down here for Parents Day.

The Singing 17 has tentatively scheduled an appearance at the Brook Country Club sometime before the Prom.

Requirements For Admission Change in '58

Fr. Richard P. Baird, Director of Admissions, has announced a change in requirements for admission to St. Joseph's college.

For those high school students and all others who will seek admissions after September, 1958, the requirement of an I.Q. of 108 or an equivalent has been increased to 110 or an equivalent thereof.

No Other Changes

Also, all students will be required to take Scholastic Aptitude Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board in order to give further evidence of their ability to succeed in college.

The other two minimum requirements remain unchanged, i.e. an average of C or 80 or equivalent thereof in total high school work and rank in the upper half of the high school graduating class.

Bigger Freshman Class

Applicants for admission are also required to submit a certificate of graduation and sufficient credits in academic subjects, and to meet at least two of the three minimum requirements.

The construction of Gallagher and Halas halls has made it possible to accept more students for next year's freshman class. There is still time for qualified students to gain admission to St. Joseph's for the 1958-59 school year.

Deferment Is Not Rejection

All applications should be addressed to Fr. Richard P. Baird, Director of Admissions, Collegeville, Ind. Within a few days, the applicants will be notified by the registrar whether they have been approved, deferred, or rejected.

Deferment means that the student has met the minimum requirements, but leaves something to be desired in order to be considered as ideal candidate for admission. Approval is withheld in order to allow him an opportunity to improve his record. In most cases, final action will not be taken on these applicants until their final high school grades have been received.

SJC Hosts IPA Delegates At Spring Philosophy Meet

by Jerry Bosch

Eighty student and teacher delegates from 15 Indiana colleges and universities attended the annual spring meeting of the Indiana Philosophical Association, which was held Saturday, Apr. 19 on the St. Joe campus.

The meeting was divided into a junior and senior division which comprised student and faculty representative respectively. St. Joe senior Urban Thobe was chairman of the junior division, while the Rev. Murel Vogel, S. J., of West Baden college was the chairman of the senior division.

Thobe Enters Essay

Each division met separately in the morning sessions where the delegates listened to philosophical dissertations. After the reading of each paper, a question and answer period followed in which the writer of the paper had to defend his views.

In the junior division, student delegates had previously submitted essays as part of a contest to select the best student essay on a philosophical subject. Urban Thobe's essay, "The Scientist in Search of Wisdom," merited honorable mention. Burton L. Carlson of Wabash college won first prize with his essay on "Plato's Theory of Knowledge."

Dr. Kreyche on Panel

Following the morning session and lunch in the cafeteria, the delegates of both divisions convened in the east reading room of the library for a panel discussion on the nature of the philosophical method. Panelists included: Gordon H. Clark of Butler university, who was panel chairman, Lewis A. Hennigar of Anderson college, and St. Joseph's Robert J. Kreyche.

The IPA is an independent professional organization which meets annually in the spring and fall of each year. Its purpose is to bring students and teachers of philosophy together for the exchange and communication of philosophical knowledge.

Last Meeting at SJ in 1947

Every college and university in the state of Indiana is a member of the association. The president of the senior division is chosen each year at the fall meeting. The junior division has no formally elected president, a chairman being chosen by the host school for each meeting.

The last meeting of the group at St. Joe was in 1947. Fr. Edwin Kaiser of St. Joseph's is a former president of the senior division.

Science Day Attracts 500

An estimated 500 persons attended St. Joseph's Science Day on Sunday, April 9. Included among the visitors were girls from Beaverville high school and various high school groups in and around Rensselaer.

The biology, chemistry, physics, and geology departments each presented exhibits in the various fields of science. As an added incentive to produce the best possible exhibits, St. Joe's student scientists decided to have a contest to determine which exhibit and department had produced the best exhibit.

Display Indiana Minerals

The biology department's embryology exhibit and the geology department's display on economic geology walked off with the top honors. A nominal award will be given to the individuals responsible for the construction of the displays and also to the treasuries of the Geology and Biology clubs.

To Leo Kominek, George Lingen, and John Neff goes the credit for the winning embryology exhibit, while Mike Tierney, Paul Jurik, Ed Graczyk, John VanderLey, and Tom Keefe collaborated on the economic geology display which surveyed the wealth of the mineral deposits in Indiana.

"Ham" Radio Hook-Up

Although the chemistry and physics exhibits did not win any honors, they still attracted the visitors' interest. Of particular interest to visitors was the hi-fi display, demonstrated by Dave Carey, and the "ham" radio hook-up, exhibited by Bob Hoffswell.

In the chemistry department a number of experiments were set up; among these was the experiment which demonstrated the production of artificial rubber.

Pumas Tame Tigers Twice In Home Opener, 3-0, 10-3

by Tom Donahue

The St. Joseph college Pumas opened their 1958 baseball season at home on Saturday, Apr. 12 with a doubleheader win over DePauw university. The scores were 3-0 and 10-3.

Angelo Dattomo, a junior right hander from Cincinnati, O., started the first game for the Pumas and worked five innings, during which time he walked only two men and struck out two.

Vrdolyak Winner In Relief

The game was a scoreless tie until St. Joe pushed across two runs in their half of the sixth on a bunt hit by second baseman Tom Freehill, a sacrifice by catcher Jack Walsh, a walk to pitcher Ed Vrdolyak, and a long triple to right center by third baseman Jim Gagliano. They added an insurance run in the eighth on singles by Vrdolyak, Gagliano, and Deem.

Vrdolyak, who came on in the sixth when Dattomo developed a blister on his pitching hand, held DePauw to only one hit in the last four innings and got credit for the win.

Pumas Pound 13 Hits

The second game, which went to St. Joe by the score of 10-3, saw big Greg Jancich, the right handed ace of the Pumas, strike out 14 batters in his first effort of the season.

St. Joe rapped DePauw pitching for 13 hits in the seven inning nightcap. They pushed across two runs in the first inning on successive singles by Kozlevcar, Finnegan, Hamman, and Kubniar.

Big Sixth For SJC

They added two more in the third when first baseman Jack Finnegan led off with a long triple to left center and scored on a single by catcher Tom Deem. Right fielder Bob Hamman followed Deem with a single to left and Deem kept right on coming when the left fielder bobbled the ball.

Ten men batted for the Pumas in the sixth inning as they scored six runs on four hits, two walks, and a DePauw error. The big blow of the inning was Jack Finnegan's second triple of the game.

Passed Ball Ruins Shutout

It would have been a double whitewash for the Pumas if it were not for a passed ball in the seventh which opened the door for DePauw's first runs of the afternoon. DePauw loaded the bases with nobody out on a single and two walks.

The next batter hit one back to Jancich who flipped it to the catcher for the force at home. This was followed by a pop up to Jancich for the second out. Jancich struck out the next man which should have ended the ball game but the passed ball gave DePauw new life.

A single followed the passed ball and the Tigers added two more runs before the next batter grounded out to end the game.

Varsity Views

by Tom Donahue

With a four and zero record, the Pumas lead the ICC. Sounds good, doesn't it? This is almost the same team that finished last a year ago but with a few exceptions and a year's experience under their belt.

The play of big Jack Finnegan at first has been most gratifying to date. He isn't the most experienced ball player on the club but when it comes to hustle and the willingness to work few will beat him out.

I didn't see the ball game at Evansville Saturday but from all reports Finnegan's homer was really tagged. It never was more than eight feet off the ground and was hit to the center field side of right center. But it was hit so hard that it was past the center fielder and gone before he could take more than a few steps toward the ball.

Dattomo gave out with a little good news that should please everybody. He said that it wasn't arm trouble that bothered him in the second game last Saturday, he just didn't have the control. That will happen to any body on a given day. But the fact that his arm feels good means that we still have that one-two punch of Jancich and Dattomo to throw at the opposition on Saturdays and we'll be hard to stop in the conference this year.

After the first five days of spring football drills Coach Jauron reports that the team attitude is very good but a lot of work has still to be done. The big problem is at quarterback. At the present it's a three way race between Speilman, Osgood, and McGovern.

Ed Labbe is being alternated between the end and guard position. The big job is finding a replacement for Bill Brinkman. At the ends Regner and Homerding are the number one candidates at the present with Blackmore and Madden at the second unit ends.

Mike Murphy is working out every day but isn't taking any contact. Coach Jauron wants to give that shoulder all the time it needs to heal.

St. Joe Nine To Resume ICC Play In Home Twin-Bill with Valpo

by Joe Gregorich

St. Joseph's baseball team resumes conference activity this Saturday, Apr. 26, when they entertain the Valparaiso Crusaders in a doubleheader.

The Pumas will be out to avenge two single losses at the hands of Valparaiso in 1957, 2-1 on the St. Joe diamond and 3-0 at Valparaiso.

Hurlers Have Low ERA

This year's Crusader squad features a strong pitching staff, with Bob Lohse the only individual missing from last year's hurling corps. Lohse, who is now in the St. Louis Cardinal farm system, compiled a 1.33 earned run average in ICC competition, striking out 23 batters and walking just five in 27 frames. Valparaiso's 1957 moundsmen had an ERA of 1.40 to place third in that department in small college baseball.

Leading this year's twirling staff are senior Jerry Twietmeyer and junior Dick Beumer, whose 1957 ERA's were 1.63 and 1.93 respectively.

.157 BA in '57

Behind the plate will be the much sought after pro-prospect Tom Orton. Orton, a sophomore who will be playing his first year in college competition, was selected the outstanding amateur athlete in the city of Detroit when he was a senior in high school.

The success of this year's Valparaiso team, however, depends on how much hitting the batters can muster. Already, Valpo has lost a double-header to Indiana State, 2-0 and 3-1, because of a lack of hitting. In 1957, Valpo's team batting average in the ICC was a mere .157.

Crusaders Hold Edge

Last year's team was led by Herb Sperling, who saw but limited action in the outfield while hitting .375. This year, Sperling will alternate with Orton between the outfield and catching.

Valparaiso has been somewhat of a thorn in the Pumas' side the last few years. The Crusaders have won six in a row and 12 of the last 14 contests. The all-time Valpo-St. Joe record is 7-18.

The following week the Pumas entertain two Indianapolis teams, Indiana Central on Tuesday, Apr. 29 and Marian on Thursday, May 1.

St. Joe Deals Evansville Aces 2 Losses, 12-1, 8-7

by Tom Donahue

St. Joseph's baseball Pumas strengthened their hold on first place in the ICC with a double win over defending conference champion Evansville, in two games played at Evansville, Saturday, Apr. 19.

The Pumas won by scores of 12-1 and 8-7, giving them a 4-0 conference record and 4-1 for the season.

Jancich Hurls 2-Hitter

Greg Jancich, big right handed ace of the Pumas' pitching staff, recorded his second win of the season as he went all the way in the opener, giving up just two hits and striking out six. The Pumas' bats continued to pound the opposition's pitching as they touched Evansville for 19 hits in the opener.

St. Joe broke the scoring ice in the first inning by scoring two runs on two hits, two walks and two Evansville errors. They added single runs in the third and fourth innings, three runs in the fifth, another in the sixth and four in the ninth.

Finnegan Hits Grand Slam

The sole Evansville run come in the sixth as a result of an error. Jancich has now pitched 16 innings for St. Joe without allowing an earned run. His 1.25 earned run average was the best in the conference last season.

It took a grand slam home run by Puma first baseman Jack Finnegan to pull the second game out of the fire and give St. Joe an 8 to 7 win.

Joemen Boot Wabash Game

Five costly errors in the ninth inning allowed five Wabash runs to cross the plate in the St. Joe nine's initial non-conference tilt of the season on Tuesday, Apr. 15. The result was a 7-3 win for the Little Giants.

Wabash had taken advantage of another Puma miscue in the eighth to score two unearned runs and cut a three-run St. Joe lead to 3-2. Willie Walters, who had relieved in the eighth, walked the first batter to face him in the ninth. Then Coach Bob Shemky called the fourth pitcher to the scene, Ed Vrdolyak, who promptly walked the first man to face him.

Pumas Fail In 9th

Then the roof fell in. Vrdolyak, who was the eventual loser, threw wild on first on a bunt attempt to load the bases. A sacrifice fly tied the score and a single to right put Wabash ahead, 4-3. A wild throw to the plate by Bob Hamman allowed another run to score.

After the next batter flied to right, two more errors and two more walks gave the Little Giants another pair of tallies to bring it to 7-3. The Pumas put a man on first in the ninth by way of a walk, but didn't threaten.

Gallaher Helps Cause

Bob Gallaher started for the Pumas and gave up only two hits in five innings, then was replaced by Greg Grothouse in the sixth. The latter pitched creditably until an error by shortstop Ray Kuzniar in the eighth opened the gates for Wabash.

Gallaher aided his own cause in the second inning by singling in Kuzniar for the first tally of the game. In the seventh, successive singles by Kuzniar, Tom Freehill, and Grothouse, followed by a double by Jim Gagliane accounted for the other two Puma scores.

SJ "Old Timers" To Test Varsity On Parents' Day

The young blood of the 1958 vareity will see just how much fight is left in the old Puma when the first "Old Timers" football game on Parents' Day, May 4, pits the ICC champions against the St. Joe alumni.

Coach Bob Jauron has lined up a squad of alumni more than ready to put the varsity's ruggedness in spring practice to the test. Among those returning to the hallowed sod of the St. Joe "Puma Bowl" are Joe Keane, '46, now head coach at St. Mel high school in Chicago, and Red Thuerk, '41, head coach at Chicago's St. Phillip's.

1958 Grads to Play

Joining Keane and Thuerk will be Puma veterans Tom Paonessa, '53; Jerry Wenzel, '53; John Thorpe, '54; Jim Righeimer, '54; and Ray Banary, '57, now coaching at North Judson high school.

Rounding out the alumni squad will be the '58 graduates— all of whom were key men in the Puma march on to the 1957 ICC crown— Jim O'Brien, Bob Hamman, Keith Fingerhut, George Sherwood, soon to don the gear of the pro Philadelphia Eagles, and Bill Brinkman.

Familiar Faces on Varsity

The varsity ranks will be filled with the familiar faces of Les Klein, Mike Murphy, Dick Romo, Dick Cote, Ken Bates, Tom Huhn, Ray Regner, Ed Labbe, Tom Deem, Jim Tegtmeyer, Bob Smat, Chuck Spielman, Ray Shuhet, Rog Mueller, Bob Homerding and the promising freshman crop.

Jauron also announced that Chet Bulger, head coach at De La Salle in Chicago will be one of the Old Timers coaches.

An SJ Team may Lose

The game, starting at 1:00, promises to make May 4 an afternoon of giants. If successful, the game will be an annual affair.

This may be the rare occasion where a St. Joseph's football team is beaten on its home field, something which opponents have been unable to do for quite sometime.

SJ Linksmen Lose First Match

Senior George Lux, the only returnee from last year's golf team, led the linksmen in their first match of the year, Apr. 12, with Indiana State at Terre Haute. Despite the fact that State won the match 12½ to 8½, Fr. Kuhns, the team coach, was pleased by the performance of the Joemen.

This was the team's first match and State had already played in eight or nine meets. Despite the lack of veterans, Fr. Kuhns predicts that St. Joe will surprise a few opponents this year. He also thinks that the team could win the championship next year with the men that will be returning. A few promising freshmen, ineligible to play this year, will be a welcome addition to the squad.

Besides Lux, the team consists of sophomores Dick Etter, Pat Bray, Dick Nietzel, Bob Ernst, and junior Jack Brynes. The individual scores in the State meet were: Lux, 45-39; Etter, 42-39; Bray, 41-41; Njetzel, 40-41, and Brynes, 43-46.

The team will play in the Little State Meet, May 16. This meet is a 36-hole medal play tournament with teams from the ICC and Hoosier Conference competing. It will be held at Coffin Country Club in Indianapolis.

The team plays its home games at Curtis Creek Country Club.

The remaining schedule is:

Apr. 27, Bellarmine at Louisville
May 3, Loyola, Chicago U. and IIT at Dyer
May 16, Little State Meet at Indianapolis

Results of last week's games in the 16" league point to two familiar names, the Gamokes and the 7-7's. Both teams won convincingly in games last week.

In the results of the All-Sports trophy race, Noll hall is running away and hiding from the rest of the school. It has built an almost insurmountable lead of 227 points. Standings are:

Finnegan's Poke Wins It

Shaky pitching by the Puma staff got them in trouble early in the ball game and they found themselves trailing by a seven to four count as they went into the seventh and last inning.

Puma center fielder Jim Koehler led off with a single and this was followed by walks to George Rickord and Rog Redelman. Finnegan then poked the ball into deep right center field for the home run that gave St. Joe the ball game.
